

HANSA HEAVY LIFT expands its presence in Australia

As part of ongoing expansion plans HANSA HEAVY LIFT has extended its network with a newly-established set up in Australia, based in Perth, and effective from the first of January 2014.

The office is managed by John McNamara and Trent Robson, who have considerable experience in the project and heavy lift shipping industry. They report into HANSA HEAVY LIFT's regional headquarters for Australasia, based in Singapore and headed up by Jesper Traerup.

John and Trent said that HANSA HEAVY LIFT has the youngest fleet available in the market and provides Australia with a true alternative to the traditional heavy lift operators. They said they were looking forward to servicing their client base with the full support of the HANSA HEAVY LIFT team.

HANSA HEAVY LIFT now has eleven exclusive agents worldwide, as well as the Perth office and offices in Singapore, Houston and headquarters in Hamburg, Germany.

"We are pleased to welcome HANSA HEAVY LIFT Australia to the family," said Joerg Roehl, Chief Commercial Officer of HANSA HEAVY LIFT. "Australia represents an exciting and growing market for us, and we are delighted to have two such experienced industry players to head up our operation there."
